"THAW PRETENDS AT DELAY IN GETTING JURY"—PETERS

But Delay Is Excusable, Says Preacher-Writer, in Order to Get the Right Men

BY Rev. Dr. Madison J. Peters

WHEN Henry Kleinberger stepped into the box as the eleventh juror in the Thaw trial yesterday, he was the last catch of the official net of 300 takersmen and the last for a day that was characterized by cynicism, listlessness and lassitude as the hours dragged along.

The examination of the takersmen was dreary and monotonous, and seemed to me to lack the nerve and vim and interest which distinguished both sides on the previous days.

Tediousness always pains me less on every day. So a takersman was in the air which appeared to be contagious. Even Thaw appeared languid and listless and did not seem to show his former hope of a verdict of acquittal.

Extreme Care Taken to Get Right Men on Jury.

The delay, however, is excusable on both sides, owing to the extreme care taken to get the right men in the right place. Another panel of 100 men had been released at the trial of the jury, making 300 called in all, and the justice had to call for a new panel.

It seems that they are unwilling to go something to their oath on the Bible, to render a verdict in accordance with the evidence and the law, but that they are waiting for the jury to be determined by the jury, and that they are waiting for the jury to be determined by the jury.

Three Out of Five Hold Unchangeable Opinion.

So it is the newspaper against the Bible and conscience, and in most cases that is the newspaper that is the cause of the delay.

What do you think of a man who has an opinion and will not change it? He is a man of principle, and he is a man of principle.

He is a man of principle, and he is a man of principle. He is a man of principle, and he is a man of principle.

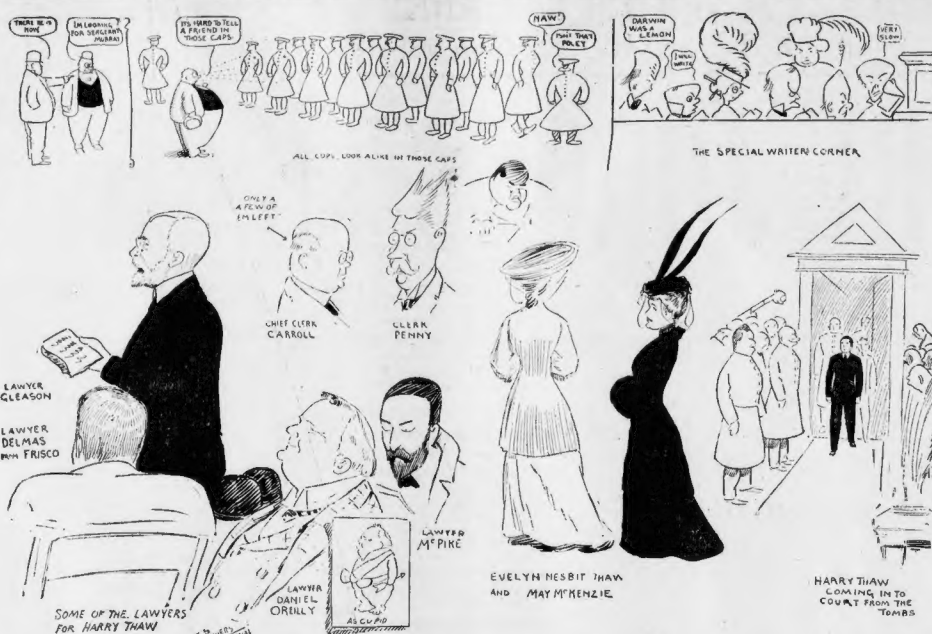

Majority Opposed to Capital Punishment.

The newspaper can tell when a man is lying or telling the truth. It is a man of principle, and he is a man of principle.

Excuses of Jurors Show Lack of Patriotism.

The recalled higher class the men of wealth and position with a few exceptions, are conspicuous by their absence from the panel.

It seems to me that it was easier to get recruits for the Spanish-American war than for the Thaw trial.

THAW SECRET COST 6 CHILDREN, HALF STARVED, SENT TO HOME

THAW CARE HER LIFE?

As a last effort to unveil the mystery surrounding the disappearance of her daughter, Mary Lawrence Carey of Providence, who was at one time employed in the parish of St. Mary's Church at the North End by the Rev. Joseph A. Garman, Mrs. Carey has appealed to the BOSTON AMERICAN for aid.

Mary Carey has been missing since June, 1905. Her mother now believes that she was murdered. To a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter today Father Garman said that the girl had confided to him that she feared that her life would be taken some day because of her secret knowledge of a woman's life.

Dropped Out of Sight.

The girl while traveling in New York for a Boston book concern left her cousin's home in New York for Providence, where she never reached home. From the moment she left the home of Mary Carey to date, she has been missing.

Attended Catholic College.

Her father, a well-to-do tailor, and her brothers, William T. Carey and Thomas Carey, the latter a member of the Providence Police Department, have written to every newspaper in New York and Boston to help them find their daughter.

Of Religious Nature.

When she left this school she was in the fourth grade, and in the summer of 1904 she went to Boston and secured a place at St. Mary's, under Father Garman, at the North End, and then told them of about six months, and then told them of about six months, and then told them of about six months.

CONFESSIONS HE KILLED DOCTOR TO AVENGE WIFE

Man Accused of Slaying Staten Island Physician Describes
Crime to Brother.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—John Bell was taken to his step-brother, describing how he murdered Dr. Charles Wilcox Towne, and in the bedroom of the physician's residence in New Brighton, N. L. last night, and in revenge for the death of his wife, was made public late this evening by District Attorney J. J. Kenney.

In his confession, as related to the authorities by Howard Bell, the prisoner again shows a remarkable instance of that weird mental condition which, the police declared, led him to murder the physician upon the exact anniversary of the death of Mrs. Bell, who had been under Dr. Towne's care.

Crypt About House for an Hour.
Bell planned himself to his brother as a silent creep, about 10 o'clock, and then, after waiting for an hour, he entered the house.

The confession shows Bell as going to the bedroom where Dr. Towne's wife, who was sleeping, leaning over her and almost killing her with her hands, and then, after waiting for an hour, he entered the house.

Paced Through Lower Hallway.
The confession then shows Bell pacing the second floor and the hallway, still almost killing her with her hands, and then, after waiting for an hour, he entered the house.

Under date of January 26, 1907, Mr. F. F. Fish, president of the Company, writes us in part as follows:

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company is the successor of the American Bell Telephone Company, having acquired early in 1900 all the property and business of that Company. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company owns directly the long distance telephone lines, and is the owner of shares of the capital stock in about forty companies operating throughout the United States and Canada, holding, except in a few instances, a controlling interest.

The Company's capital stock at present outstanding in the hands of the public is $131,651,400.

On December 31, 1906, the net surplus and reserves of the Company amounted to approximately $14,000,000.

The number of telephone subscribers' stations operated in the United States by this Company and by the companies to which its telephones are leased has been as follows:

1902	1903	1904	1905	1906 (Dec. 31)
1,399,041	1,683,087	2,003,213	2,528,715	3,054,000

The number of miles of wire owned by this Company and its associated companies is approximately: Exchange, 6,100,000; toll, 1,400,000; making a total of 7,500,000, of which 3,300,000 miles of exchange wire are in underground conduits.

The shares of the Company are largely distributed, the number of shareholders having been as follows:

Jan. 1, 1903	Jan. 1, 1904	Jan. 1, 1905	Jan. 1, 1906	Jan. 1, 1907
10,802	15,743	16,892	17,533	18,194

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company paid dividends each year from April, 1900, to July, 1906, at the rate of seven and one-half per cent. per year, and its predecessor, the American Bell Telephone Company, paid dividends at an equivalent or greater rate each year from 1884 to 1900. Since July, 1906, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has paid dividends at the rate of eight per cent. per annum.

The Gross revenue of this Company and its associated telephone companies for the year 1906, excluding duplications, was approximately $17,000,000.

Gross Earnings of this Company (including dividends from associated companies, were..... $24,428,434.71
Operating Expenses, Interest and Taxes..... 11,644,968.98
Leaving balance of..... $12,783,465.73

Out of which dividends amounting to $10,195,233.50 have been paid.

The book-keeping and accounting are on conservative lines and in my opinion the position and the prospects of the Company have improved from year to year and I will continue to do so.

For further details regarding the above Bonds, reference is made to the Trust Indenture under which they are issued, and to the letter from Mr. F. F. Fish, President of the Company, copies of which may be obtained at the offices of the undersigned.

Preference on allotment under subscription will be accorded to shareholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to the extent of 1-5, or 20 per cent. of the par value of their holdings of stock in the Company.

A simultaneous public issue of the above Bonds is being made by Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co., Ltd., and Messrs. J. S. Morgan & Co., in London, and by Messrs. Hope & Co., in Amsterdam.

Read Good Books
BUT don't be content with novel reading alone.

How much of the history of your own country do you know? Most of it reads like a romance, and you will find it most entertaining. Ask the librarian for some of Parkman's or Fiske's histories.

There is a charming book called "Old Court Life in France," which I think you can find in any library, and if you enjoy it as I did you will have a rare treat.

THE manufacture of soap is no longer a simple matter, as it was in the old days when the ingredients were but two varieties—sodium and hard—though practically the same ingredients are used now as in the past as the foundation for the soap. Without going into unnecessary details, a few general ideas about what is required for the manufacture of soap are useful to every one.

The manufacture of certain fatty substances, such as tallow or oil, with potassium hydroxide is known as saponification in America tallow is used.

In France and foreign countries other alkalis are used.

There are two kinds of soap, namely, soda or hard soaps differ from potash or soft soaps in the manner in which they combine with water.

When the soda is used, the chemically combined, in the other it is merely in a state of solution.

In this country soap is usually made of waste olive and linseed oils and a large quantity of tallow. The soap is made in large granulations of which is to produce what is called a "granular" appearance to the granular texture of a domestic soap, such as happened in the case of the soap which is here estimated.

Most others are always apt to preserve appearance, which form the product of the soap, and consequently this granular texture is imparted to soap by the addition of tallow.

The finest toilet soaps are usually prepared from the best olive oil and white soap and adding various perfumes.

The demand for cheap soap has resulted in the introduction and extension of a cheap soap, which is made by putting into the soap material of substances of inferior quality, and by the use of the power of steam.

For instance, the power of steam is used to make a soap of inferior quality.

American Woman's Claim Calls Forth Statement From Famous Parisian Designer of Rich Dresses

RS. 88,000 Fugitt's statement, published in the BOSTON AMERICAN, that "American drummers are the best in the world," has evoked a reply from the Boston FRONTIER editor, who is visiting London.

"If Mrs. Stuyvesant Fugitt's opinion had a basis in fact," he said, "the question of fashion would be left to the American women to buy their own."

Statistics estimated that out of the one hundred thousand American visitors to Paris seventy-five thousand came to buy dresses, and this in spite of the fact that the French women are famous for their dress sense.

Statistics prove that the American drummers are not the best in the world, because they are not drummers at all. They are American women, and a great country in every sense of the word, but Paris still must have the dominant reputation for dress. That cannot be swayed from its position.

The manager of Rodière's, the great London modiste, said, apropos of Mrs. Fugitt's statement:

"There is no doubt that the American drummers do good work, but they will be no match for the French. They are not trained in the original, trained and passed through their apprenticeship in Europe. American women are not drummers."

MAXWELL FUEL ECONOMY TEST CARS AT FINISHING LINE

By Boston American Special Writer.
 The first of the Maxwell touring cars, which performed a fuel test on a run between New York and Boston, completed the trip at 1:30 p. m. yesterday, when they arrived at the Hay State automobile Association garage on Dartmouth street. The last stage of the journey was from Worcester to Boston.

The three cars left Worcester at 9:45 a. m. and kept well together during the four-day trial. Though in some places the chauffeurs found the road rather desolate, they had little difficulty during the day, they had little difficulty during the day, they had little difficulty during the day.

It has finally been decided that the German-American Nautica race this year will be held during the week of Aug. 15. It was generally assigned to the fact that there would be no international regatta with the numerous entries suggested by the Yacht Club of Kiel and organized by the Eastern Yacht Club of New York.

For some time there was more or less of a hitch on the selection of the date. The German nautica wanted to have the race held during the week of Aug. 15, but the American Yacht Club, which was generally assigned to the fact that there would be no international regatta with the numerous entries suggested by the Yacht Club of Kiel and organized by the Eastern Yacht Club of New York.
